Creative. Entrepreneurial. Out-of-the-Box Thinker.

These words is what best describes me and it's what I can bring to the table.

Dear Mr/Mrs X,

You're probably wondering why I didn't put your name down – that's because you're probably reading this cover letter from a job site. No, it's not your typical run-of-the-mill cover letters, this is my original cover letter – I'll do my best in keeping you interested.

Design is not just a passion, it's a way of life. Making things practical and simplistic is the goal, yet I get excited writing code that makes everything work. I love it when my designs come together and deliver a product that is worthy of recognition.

My online portfolio at SoCalWebby.com shows a lot of my work throughout my entire career – I tried to put my best work up front while surprising you with awesome pieces. Coming up with out-of-the-box solutions is what makes me stand out, just ask the Product Team at Quotit. Creating solutions to complex issues through interfaces come from my undying love for keeping up with cutting edge trends, best practices and common sense.

I want to be your top candidate, I'm easy to talk to and I'm sure my portfolio will have you picking up the phone. I couldn't show all of my front end work due to strict security policies, but I did try to gather as much as I could to show case.

My name is Roberto Gaona, I've built solid relationships with my peers that blossom to lasting friendships. So far, I've been blessed with a diverse career, I've come to realize what I am truly passionate about – front end development. You know, there's something about creating that UI design and the ability to code those web pages, interfaces and interactions that truly excites me.

Let's take the next step together.

So you've read my cover letter, I hope it didn't bore you – as you can tell, I'm a creative writer as well. If you'd like to read more about me and my skillset, check out my website at SoCalWebby.com. While you're there, explore my online resume, it showcases additional work; separated by employer.

Enough about me, let me know a little about you. Send me an email or give me a call and let's talk about the company, the position and what you seek in the ideal employee.

Thank you for the time and I look forward to hearing from you.

Best Regards,

Roberto Gaona
